RE: Our Greatest Threat: Christian Students

Since summer is upon us, it is absolutely critical that I give you some practical advice about how you, as a demon of hell, can keep Christian students from using their summers to change the world for our Enemy. The higher lords of hell are all too aware of the fact that the summer ministry trend with Christian students these days is to serve God and change lives for His kingdom. Summer mission trips overseas and in North America are rampant and out of control! This summer ministry stuff must STOP NOW!

Junior high students are serving God this summer!

It used to be that this summer of service stuff was limited to high school and college-age Christian students. The junior high/middle school student was ours to tempt and toy with all summer. Not these days! Somewhere, somehow, Christian adults and youth workers began to believe the truth—i.e., that God can and wants to use junior high and middle schoolers for His glory. For years we had Christian adults—including many ministers—believing the lie that students needed to first become adults—then God could use them. Not now! These days Christian students pose much more of a threat to our evil work than the vast majority of church-ed adults. Why? Because Christian students have the time during the summer to use it for the kingdom of God... and that is lethal to us and our evil cause! And as we say in hell, “If you know and obey the truth... you are a dangerous Christian!”

Why we must stop summer ministry with students

Why is all this summer ministry activity so powerful and threatening to us? The work and impact on others through these Christian students is alarming, but how God uses these summer ministry experiences IN students to shape their lives is absolutely horrifying! These summer ministry experiences are often where students get these wild ideas about “reaching their friends,” becoming missionaries, church planters, youth pastors, pastors and serving God with their lives 24/7! That’s all we need. The big boss will have our scaly hides if we keep losing students to a lifetime of Christian service like this!

Five weapons we can use to stop Christian students this summer

So now is the strategic time for you—my little demons of destruction—to act—and thwart the summer plans of Christian students! NOW is the time when Christian
